

Foreword

The Editors

The first issue of 2026 is marked by a moment of sadness with the premature loss of the journal's co-founder, Professor Susanne Even. In the opening contribution, Professor Manfred Schewe offers a personal tribute to her life and legacy. The issue features five research articles, a Window of Practice, two book reviews, and two conference reviews. As Editors, we believe that the works presented in this bilingual issue (English/German) bear witness to the vibrant field and international community that Professor Susanne Even helped cultivate over many years.

Contents:

- Foreword
- In Memoriam: Susanne Even, by Manfred Schewe
- Grammar as social drama: A performance-driven approach based on core linguistic principles, by Jean-Rémi Lapaire (English – Article)
- Identity reflections on a Peruvian performative theatre course, by Carlos Martin Vélez Salas (English – Article)
- Integrating Drama and Digital Technology for English Learning: An Exploratory Mixed-Method Research, by Li Ding and Michaela Sambanis (English – Article)
- Motivation and engagement in role: A comparative study of process drama and communicative teaching in adult EFL learning, by Marlene Kruger and Michaela Sambanis (English – Article)
- Alex: Ein Dramapädagogik-Projekt an der Schnittstelle von Forschung, Lehramtsausbildung und schulischem Sprachunterricht, by Michaela Hánová, Bettina Steinbauer, Eva Salcmanová (German – Window of Practice)
- From page to stage: Incorporating experiential learning into the literature classroom, by Melissa Doran (English – Window of Practice)
- Review of Magela, A. \(2025\). Theater education - Why, what, how: Philosophical, educational and action-based guidelines and principles for teachers, by Ángela Amarilla (English – Review)
- Review of Carroll, C. \(2024\). Class Clown. Fooling them into Learning, by Maija-Leena Rebsch, Anke Stöver-Blahak (English and German – Review)
- Report of “Where imagination becomes experience: Celebrating the life and work of Cecily O’ Neill”, July 25-26, 2026, Trinity College Dublin, Ireland, by Miriam Stewart (English – Conference Report)
- Report of “Belonging through creativity, courage and care: Performative Approaches to Language and Intercultural Learning \(PAInt\) Summer School 2026”, July 28-30, 2026, University of Perugia, Italy, by Sara Rozić (English – Conference Report).